Rule IX. Don't tell me what I'd like to hear, but what I ought to hear. I don't want a valet to my vanity, but I need one for my dollars.—Business Men's Rules.

Athletics at Yale University last year netted $5243, in spite of the fact that the total expenses were $101,978. The receipts of the Harvard-Yale football game were $32,454.

The population of Boston is 707,000 according to the new edition of the city directory. This is 16,826 more inhabitants than last year, or an increase of more than 5 per cent.

In the hill climb held at Columbia, S. C., July 4, Bauer, the clever Oakland driver captured two firsts. He won in the 301 to 450 cubic inch piston displacement class; also in the free for all. He made the half mile ascent in 43 seconds. This makes eight firsts and one second so far for Oakland cars this season.

There was a falling off of nearly seven million dollars in the customs receipts at the port of Boston for the fiscal year ended June 30 last. The receipts amounted to $23,554,780, compared with $30,452,668 for the preceding fiscal year. Customs officials ascribe as the chief cause the falling off in importations of woolens, owing to uncertainty among dealers and manufacturers over the tariff outlook.

Representative "Sam" Gould is out and out a Champ Clark man. "I would like to see the speaker nominated for the presidency," says the Skowhegan representative. "I would rather see him nominated than any other man. When I was in Maine recently, I heard of an occasional Democrat, who was a very pronounced Harmon supporter. The drift of the Presidential talk that I heard, however, indicated quite a trend in favor of Gov. Woodrow Wilson."

Terrible Suffering

Eczema All Over Baby's Body.

"When my baby was four months old his face broke out with eczema, and at sixteen months of age, his face, hands and arms were in a dreadful state. The eczema spread all over his body. We had to put a mask or cloth over his face and tie up his hands. Finally we gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a few months he was entirely cured. Today he is a healthy boy." Mrs. Inez Lewis, Barling, Maine. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures blood diseases and builds up the system. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

INSURGENCY DISINTEGRATING

Former Rockland Man Sees President Taft Steadily Rising in Favor Throughout the Country.

[T. Raymond Pierce, whose occasional communications are a delight to readers of The Courier-Gazette, has recently paid a visit to Washington. The following editorial article in the Boston Commercial is the shrewd conclusion drawn from things that he observed at the national capital:]

Insurgency is disintegrating and in the process the mask has been torn off revealing its true purpose, the presidential aspiration of La Follette, thus justifying all the criticism which has been made of it.

La Follette was the original insurgent and because he stood apart from the regular senators, attracted to himself as an older senator the younger men who came to the senate who were not in entire sympathy with the regulars. In the way the insurgent element came to number 13, which in itself may or may not have been prophetic of the present outcome.

La Follette is a gentleman of clean personal character with a reputation for honesty, but in demeanor he is dictatorial, overbearing and repulsive with the sole aim in life of advancing his own fortunes without consideration for the size or character of the obstacles in the way.

La Follette was shrewd in foreseeing the probable result of a large amount of public sentiment which would demand some of the politics which are today termed progressive and he was early in the field in support of them, realizing in this way that he might attract attention to himself in which he certainly has succeeded.

From the floor of the senate he was in a position to challenge attention and succeeded in gathering quite a following who believed in his sincerity and thought that he was the Moses who should lead the people out of the bondage of the "special interests."

Roosevelt never had much use for La Follette when he was president and consulted him but little. He himself aspired to be the leader of the insurgents and La Follette was a competitor in the field. Then, too, Roosevelt never went to the lengths of which La Follette would be capable if he had the power.

With the passing of Roosevelt along came William Howard Taft, a man of pleasing personality and notable fairness which appealed at once to the hearts of the people. He desired to be president of all the people and furthermore desired that the will of the people should be carried out. He thought that campaign promises were to be lived up to after the election and at once set about fulfilling them.

This course so appealed to the people that it was early recognized in his administration that he was to be a popular president, all of which annoyed La Follette. Seeing that if President Taft continued to hold the goodwill of the people, his chances of a nomination for the presidency in 1912 would amount to nothing. La Follette started a campaign of vilification on the floor of the senate and throughout the country through the insurgent press which had for its sole object the discrediting of President Taft and his own substitution in the affections of the people.

It is unnecessary to recall the tactics by which President Taft in a quiet way disarmed the La Follette opposition through the introduction of the reciprocity agreement with Canada. La Follette saw at once that this was such a popular measure with the people that if it was successful it would make the renomination of President Taft absolutely certain, so he at once attacked from every angle seeking to convince the people that it was class legislation in which the farmer was sacrificed to aid the manufacturer.

In this La Follette and his followers have been unsuccessful. Whether this agreement will work out as the president or as the insurgents prophesied, the people want to try it out and judge for themselves of its actual results.

On this rock insurgency split and a great deal of the press following which La Follette had attracted left him when it found that the people wanted reciprocity no matter whether La Follette wanted it or not. Of

YOUR FAVORITE POEM

Old fashioned poetry, but choicely good.—Isaac Watson.

Somewhere or Other
Somewhere or other there must surely be
The face not seen, the voice not heard,
The heart that not yet—never yet—ah me!
Made answer to my word.

Somewhere or other, may be near or far;
East land and sea, clean out of sight;
Beyond the wandering moon, beyond the star
That tracks her night by night.

Somewhere or other, may be far or near;
With just a wall, a hedge, between;
With just the last leaves of the dying year
Fallen on a turf grown green.

TWICE-A-WEEK.

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, July 15, 1911.
Personally appeared, Neil S. Perry, who declares that he is president in the office of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that the issue of The Courier-Gazette of July 11, 1911, there was printed a total of 4,000 copies before me:
J. W. CHICKER, Notary Public.

"The Bath Times presents in a nutshell and with perfect clearness the issue before our people. Says the Times:

Maine is being flooded with the literature of the liquor interests and their allies, urging the defeat of prohibition. The arguments are well written and plausible, but the real reason for the interest of the wealthy liquor trust is never mentioned—that it desires to sell more liquor, and that it desires the moral effect of the repeal of Maine prohibition to help break down the prohibition system of the State. The Maine people should beware of the nicely gotten up literature of the Rum Trust, put into the State under various names, and should decide this question on its merits. Do we want barrooms on the most conspicuous and business corners of our city? Do we wish, by licensing liquor selling, to create a new revenue for the public treasury which will be entirely consumed together with a large slice of the existing revenues in taking care of the insane, the criminals and the paupers resulting from the increased use of liquor? Do we wish to divert money from the savings banks to the pockets of the class of lazy and unprincipled men who are willing for the sake of money to debauch their fellow beings? These are some of the real and vital questions at issue.

That is the real reason—the liquor interests desire to sell more rum, both in Maine and elsewhere. They don't care how much poverty and wretchedness and crime their traffic unloads upon our people, so long as the rum-sellers' pockets are lined with money.

If it be true that the brown-tail moth is increasing in Rockland, an opportunity is afforded for the activities of the Boy Scouts. In Concord, N. H., Scout Master Spanhoof, a teacher in the famous St. Paul's school, has got the boys interested in clearing and conquering these pests. He is accomplishing a double purpose: First, the Boy Scouts are proving of help to the community. Secondly, they are being trained to thrift because they are making money by the work. The boys get paid one dollar for every thousand nests of the moths that they gather; the insects being destroyed. Prominent citizens of Concord, who are interested in forestry, gladly have furnished the money to pay the boys and already many thousands of the moth's nests have been destroyed.

"I think it is a work," writes Mr. Spanhoof, "of the activities of the Boy Scout patrols as it is for the common good and affords them a legitimate way of making money necessary for their equipment. I think that one of the principles of the Boy Scout movement should be that it should be, as far as possible, self-supporting. In that case, there must be given to the patrols opportunities of making money, and I think that in a good many places in New England, the gathering of brown tail moth's nests, being at once a necessary and a public spirited work, should be easily financed in the way we hope to do in Concord. The price of one dollar for one thousand nests was found by experience just sufficient to stimulate the school children to do their work with effective enthusiasm."

It is early to pronounce judgment upon Rockland's oiled streets, but this fact is established in the minds of storekeepers and pedestrians, namely that there has been no dust flying since the oil was applied. The oil has odor and it tracks, but these are drawbacks that will disappear. And it is worth while giving a careful trial. It is too far advanced into the twentieth century for Rockland to continue to put up with the nuisance of dust such as it long has suffered from. And by the way, now that the street sprinklers can be withdrawn from Main street and its immediate tributaries they will be more available for the protection of those of us who live on the back streets, particularly the o'er-dusty streets which must travel by the automobile.

"I am emphatically opposed," declares Hon. Obadiah Gardner in a published newspaper interview, "to the brand of prohibition that we are now, and have been, laboring with." It is proper to hold Mr. Gardner and his fellow Democrats responsible for the "brand of prohibition" that Maine now is "laboring with." "It was easy when that party was out of power to charge the wicked Republicans with nullification of the law, but since the Democrats, flush with promises, came into power their record has been a roaring farce. The Portland Press, commenting upon Mr. Gardner's reasons for preferring saloon control of Maine, says: "In this Mr. Gardner is out of sympathy with the Grange. The Grange as a rule stands for retaining the amendment."

Hon. Charles E. Littlefield's speech in Postoffice square Saturday evening will be certain to attract a large audience. Listeners, those who wish to hear what the distinguished speaker has to say in connection with the campaign that is now on in Maine. Mr. Littlefield's conclusions will be sure to be based upon his own investigations, carefully and deeply made. If he believes that Maine should retain its prohibitory amendment he will have logical reasons for that belief. Many able speakers are to be in the State this summer, but none of greater ability than our own former fellow-townsmen, and this, his first speech along political lines since three years ago, will be heard with intense interest.

O you girl swimmer! Come along boys, the water is fine at Crescent Beach.

RETAIN PROHIBITION

So Says Convention of School Superintendents—Supt. Stuart Heads Resolutions Committee

The educators of Maine have put themselves on record in favor of the retention of the principle of prohibition in this State. The convention of the superintendents of schools in this session at Castine Wednesday, with unbounded enthusiasm and by unanimous vote adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas the present non-political campaign concerning the temperance question, we regard as one of the most important issues ever presented to the citizens of a free commonwealth and, Whereas, the superintendents of schools, share in a large measure the responsibility for promoting the physical, mental and moral interest of the boys and girls soon to be the men and women who will control the policy of the State;

Resolved, That without regard to our political or religious affiliations, we thoroughly believe that the material interest of the State will be best subserved and the highest welfare of the present and future generations will be best secured by continuing, enforced, the present prohibitory amendment.

Resolved, That we appeal to the electorate of the State to reaffirm on September 11 next, the principle established by our fathers and maintained by the State of Maine for the last 50 years, that there shall be no alliance between the forces that tend to uplift and those that tend to lower, debauch and destroy all that is best in humanity.

Supt. G. A. Stuart of Rockland was chairman of the resolutions committee.

THE STOCKHOLDERS' OBJECT

A New Chapter in the Financial Difficulties of the Gilbert Transportation Co.

The Hartford Courant says—"The stockholders of the Gilbert Transportation Company, whose affairs are in the hands of a receiver, will make a fight against the demand by Receiver F. S. Butterworth of New Haven for payment for common stock which they received as a bonus, at the rate of one share for five shares of preferred stock purchased. This action was decided upon at a meeting of the stockholders at the Hartford Club, which was called as a result of a recent conference of four of the old directors of the company. There were 50 stockholders present and the meeting heard from an equal number by letter. There was only one sentiment, which was in favor of contesting the claims of the receiver, and it was voted to contest it and employ counsel to make the fight. Lewis Sperry and Charles Phelps of Rockville will represent the stockholders. B. F. Williams of Mystic presided at the meeting.

At the time of the organization of the company, the subscribers to the preferred stock mentioned, which was issued as paid in full and non-assessable, although according to the arrangement at the time, nothing was paid for it. The stockholders do not believe that the receiver can legally collect for stock which was not paid for. They will contest the attempt to collect it."

TAKE WOODBURY AWAY!

Collector Wright Promises a Vigorous Howl if the Old Reliable Cutter is Removed.

Lieut. Henry Ulke, executive officer of the revenue cutter Woodbury, is now in command of that craft. He will hold the berth until a successor to Capt. Francis S. Van Boskerck is sent here. Capt. Van Boskerck left July 5 to assume command of the revenue cutter Mohawk at New York. No word has been received from Washington as to who will be in command of the cutter.

"The fact that no one has been selected has given rise to the rumor," says the Portland Press, "that the Woodbury may be taken out of service altogether. It will be remembered that over a year ago Congress appropriated some money for two new cutters one of which was to take the place of the Woodbury. It is suggested by some that at last this craft may be coming here after a good many delays."

Collector Fred W. Wright, who was shown this statement promises to set up a vigorous protest if the Woodbury is withdrawn. "This old craft has done more good in our district than all the other revenue cutters combined, and if it is taken away it will be a bad blow to our shipping interests," said Collector Wright.

ST. GEORGE CROSSING

Railroad Commissioners Will Have Hearing in This City Next Friday.

A special act passed by the 75th Legislature authorized the Booth Bros. & Hurricane Isle Granite Co. to maintain a railroad crossing or crossings in the town of St. George. That company had become desirous of extending its tracks in a northwesterly and southwesterly direction from its plant at Long Cove and finds that it is necessary to cross the highway leading from Thomaston to Tenants Harbor at a point between its quarries and Long Cove. Accordingly it has presented to the state board of railroad commissioners a petition for approval of the manner and condition in which the tracks must cross the highway.

A hearing has been ordered upon the petition at 11 a. m., Friday, July 21, at the law office of Charles T. Smalley, in this city.

EYE MEN WERE HERE

Optometrists Held Midsummer Convention in This City, with Banquet at Crescent Beach.

The Maine Association of Optometrists (pronounced opt-o-m-e-t-r-i-s-t-s, with accent on the second syllable) held its midsummer convention in this city Wednesday. Because of the extreme heat, which made traveling by rail positively disagreeable, there were only about 25 present. The business sessions were held in Kimball hall, and the members promptly discarded coats and vests.

A clinic at 2.30 was followed by two papers of much interest to the profession—one by J. R. Roche of Eastport, "The Making of a Successful Optometrist," and the other by L. V. Somes of Portland on "What can we do to Discourage Irregular and Unprofessional Methods Amongst our own Members?" Otis Skinner of Bangor was elected to membership, and the application of one other candidate was laid over. The place for holding the quarterly meeting in October was left with the executive committee, which will name August.

In the evening there was a banquet at the Crescent Beach House, and the cool ride to that popular resort was so refreshing to the members that they promptly forgot there was such a thing as a heated spell.

The seat of honor at the banquet table was occupied by Alexander H. Thayer, president of the association. Mr. Thayer wears very gracefully the title of major in the N. G. S. M., and was one of the officers assigned to the maneuvers in Texas, where he served in a manner that reflected credit upon his state guard. Harry J. Coville of Bangor, secretary of the Association, was also present.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. F. A. Rodgers, professor of pathology and bacteriology, and the warm welcome which President Thayer spoke for him was certainly forthcoming. Prof. Rodgers' subject was "Diseases of the Conjunction and Iris, and How Recognized," and was discussed in a manner that was most pleasing and that aroused the interest of the Association.

The Keno club members of the Association are J. F. Burgess, Orel E. Davies, George T. Holt, Clarence A. Pendleton, E. W. Palmer, of Rockland; William C. Jackson of West Washington; Frank E. Morrow of Camden; Arthur L. Stuart of Tenants Harbor and Edward Shaw of Union, nearly all of whom were present to assist in royally entertaining the visiting brethren.

LESSONS FROM UTAH'S TRIAL

Economy at Low Speeds Much Less with Turbine Engines—Department's Designs for Next Ship Will Show Reciprocating Engines.

The next battleship of the American navy may have either turbines or reciprocating engines, or a combination of both. The navy department's designs will show reciprocating engines. This is one of the conclusions reached by the lessons learned during the official acceptance trials of the battleship Utah, the navy's biggest ship. It was based on deductions from the trial which show that the economy at low speeds was not equal to that of the reciprocating engines. Another deduction was that the water consumption per shaft horsepower was low at 12 knots speed, very low at 19 knots and higher than expected at full speed.

The super-Dreadnought averaged 21.042 knots an hour on her four-hour run at full speed on which her contract requirement was but 20.75 knots. On that run a horsepower of 27,054 was developed, burning coal only. In the two hour trial when both oil and coal were consumed, the result was practically the same, the speed being 21.044 knots an hour and the horsepower, 27,036.

The board concluded that with higher boiler pressure allowed, the Utah could easily make 21.50 knots an hour or better, and that the result was in excess of her contract stipulation. On the 12-knot run for 24 hours she averaged 12.108 knots with a shaft horsepower of 3,938. On the 19-knot run for 24 hours she averaged 19.225 knots with a shaft horsepower of 17,150.

The greatest speed attained for one hour in any of the trials was 21.285 knots during which the boilers developed 27,930 horsepower and both coal and oil were used. The board reported that there was a complete absence of vibrations on all the trials and the ship was very easy in the seaway.

MR. HANNA'S CANDIDACY

New Harbor, July 12.
Editor of the Courier-Gazette:—Through the solicitations of many friends on the coast of Maine I have been constantly opportuned to announce myself as a candidate for commissioner of sea and shore fisheries in case my Democratic friends should lose in the next state election. Seventeen years' service to the State of Maine as a warden I believe fairly entitles me to the position. I wish to say to all of the dealers and fishermen on the coast of Maine that in event of my appointment to this position that they will not be pestered with drunken wardens. It is a disgrace to any department in this state to keep a drunken official in office after the facts have been made known.

CRESCENT BEACH PAVILION

The public is fast finding out that the coolest place in Knox county is at Crescent Beach, as the large crowds which have been at the Beach the past week indicate. All records on this line of cars have been broken, and well they should be as the Beach showed the thermometer to be 20 degrees cooler than any other place in Knox county, the cool breeze from the broad Atlantic ocean makes the Beach the ideal spot on the coast on a hot day.

As a special program for the general public Sunday afternoon and evening there will be a free band concert by the Rockland Boys' Band from 2 to 5, and free moving pictures, the best in Knox county, with beautiful illustrated songs, the kind that pleases everyone, especially the ladies and children. Remember, the coolest place to go Sunday is Crescent Beach Pavilion. Watch the bathers, get the cool Atlantic breeze, see all the beautiful pictures; hear the free open air band concert, in fact more going on in one half hour than ever known at any other summer amusement place in eastern Maine. So come one, come all, come everybody, to Crescent Beach Sunday. Regular and special cars leave for Park Point street 10 minutes of the hour and 20 minutes past every hour, all day long, and as the old saying is "once at the Beach, you are sure to go again." So come along, everyone. We want the public at the Beach.

STORMED IN LUDLOW

Rockland Boy Gets All the Hot Weather and Electricity He Wants in Massachusetts Town.

Ludlow, Mass., July 9.
Editor of the Courier-Gazette:—Perhaps you people have something to brag about in the cool weather line but we have something to say about the other extreme. Last Sunday the thermometer sailed up to 95 in the shade, Monday 98, Tuesday 100, Wednesday 104 and Thursday 96. The temperature in the mills here for the first four days of this week was between 106 and 110 during the hottest part of the day. A score or more of the help were taken away to the hospital during that period.

On the Fourth a ball game was attempted here. Four of the players were overcome by the heat and two of the spectators suffered likewise. The game was stopped at the end of the sixth inning.

Late Wednesday afternoon this section of the state was visited by the worst electric shower ever witnessed by any of the residents here. Three showers came directly over Ludlow. The wind blew a hurricane. The lightning kept the sky constantly illuminated. The rain fell in such torrents that one couldn't see twenty feet away. It seemed as though the air was one solid mass of water. This kept up for about two hours. Enormous trees were uprooted, buildings blown over and many persons were struck by lightning. On one street here a whole side was completely cleared of shade trees. Horse house No. 3 was blown to pieces and parts of it were found 200 feet away. A farmer near here had his barn struck and burned, losing horses, cows and farming implements, besides a lot of hay. Five persons were struck by the lightning and one was killed instantly. The other four will recover. Thursday another storm visited here. It was not quite as severe but two persons in their buildings as a result of the lightning.

Personally I never want to see such pranks of the old weather man again. I am sending you a copy of the Springfield paper giving an account of the havoc wrought about this district by the storm. This paper does not give Ludlow's troubles but it was the only paper I could get of that date. You will find quite an extensive account of the damage given in the columns of this paper. But don't think we have such things as a regular occurrence.

M. M. G.
The Springfield paper to which our correspondent refers, devoted several pages to the big storm, and it is evident that "Griff" has not exaggerated.—Editor.

EDGAR ROBBINS DROWNED

Former Rockland Boy Met Sad Fate at Quincy, Mass.—Married Last Year.

Edgar L. Robbins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi M. Robbins, formerly of this city, was drowned at Quincy, Mass., Tuesday afternoon. The deceased was assistant city editor of the Boston Traveler, and accounted one of the profession in that city. The Globe's story of the tragedy was as follows:

Miss Elizabeth Torrey was on the boat, watching Mr. Robbins as he swam toward her. When he was about 150 feet away she noticed him thrashing about, but at first thought he was swimming in the water. In a few minutes she realized that he was in trouble and immediately she dived from the raft and swam toward him.

Just before she reached him the sank from sight and was not seen again. Hastily swimming to shore, Miss Torrey spread the news and a telephone message was sent to police headquarters.

The police succeeded in recovering the body to be taken from the time Mr. Robbins sank. After an hour's hard work to revive him Mr. Robbins was pronounced dead.

Mr. Robbins was passing the summer with his father-in-law, J. E. Whitcomb, on Shelburne road. Mr. Robbins' wife is in a maternity hospital in Boston. Dr. Jones said tonight that Mr. Robbins was undoubtedly caught in the long eel grass, which exhausted his strength.

Besides his wife, whom he married only last year, Mr. Robbins is survived by his father and mother and two younger brothers, Archie M. and Walter. He was 27 years of age.

WAS A NOTED PENMAN

Death of Lyman D. Smith, Who Had Taught School 45 Consecutive Years in Hartford.

Lyman D. Smith, whose life terminated so suddenly this morning, was a brother, Freeman W. Smith, was a man of uncommon ability. He was thoroughly self-made, being left an orphan when a child, with nothing to help himself. He rose to a high position by industry and perseverance.

He was a kind, generous, helpful, patriotic citizen; a lover of science, music and art and truth. He leaves an estimable wife and two accomplished daughters, who are successful teachers in the Hartford schools. Two sisters and one brother survive him, Freeman W. Smith of Verona, N. J., and Mrs. M. F. Belcher of Mount Vernon, N. Y.

In his own chosen profession, that of penmanship, he had won a great reputation, not only as a first-class teacher, but as a maker of copy books. He had made nine different series of copy books for different publishing houses, a larger number than any other man has ever made. His departure from earth life and the schools of Hartford will be sadly regretted by thousands.

His wife was Barbara E. Whitmore, a sister of the late Mark C. Whitmore of Camden. The funeral was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. M. C. Whitmore. By request of the deceased, Freeman W. Smith officiated.

"GEORGIA E." WRECKED

Dense Smoke From Forest Fires Obscured Sky—Ran Onto Island.

Dense smoke from forest fires which are raging in many sections so obscured the sky Monday that the schooner Georgia E., bound from Rockland for Boston, ran onto Briar Island, and was wrecked.

Captain Messenger and the members of his crew, were rescued with difficulty by the Westport life savers. The schooner had a total loss of $5,000 registered 95 tons and was owned by her commander.

Don't think that eruption of yours can't be cured. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla—its virtue is its power to cure.

In Lubec during the recent hot spell Frank B. Miller found the mercury registering 54. Do you blame him for being somewhat provoked with a man who was complaining about it being so hot?

Dr. G. L. Crockett of Thomaston has just purchased an Elmore Roadster of C. M. Blake, agent for Knox and Lincoln automobiles. This automobile is admired by experts to be one of the most desirable on the market, and is the only valveless car manufactured.

Several different styles may be seen at Mr. Blake's Northend Garage.

Mr. and Mrs. Herrick are greatly interested will be opened for several concert in the chapel there assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Bower in a totally different program from that given at the Baptist church here. A party from this city has already arranged to attend and others will be made welcome and richly entertained.

H. W. Huke is making numerous improvements upon the cottage at Crescent Beach which he purchased some months ago from Daniel Munro.
Mr. Huke and family after several weeks' occupancy find themselves
highly pleased with Crescent Beach,
which is certainly a complimentary verdict considering that the carpenter has been pretty much in charge of the cottage of late.

Journalists in the rough, mined near Auburn, are attracting much attention in the window of the Davies jewelry store. The mine is 30 acres in extent and is owned by two men,
one of whom—John S. Towne of Brunswick—is a personal friend of Mr. Davies.
These townships in point of hardness rank as high as 7 1/2 and 8, or about the same as sapphires and rubies.

Tiffany's gem expert considers the greens and blues the finest he has ever seen from Maine and that famous has used a large part of the mine's product.

C. E. Rising & Co. is the name of a new Main street business partnership,
the members of which are C. E. Rising,
Harry T. Rising and J. R. Flye. Mr.
Flye, who was until recently agent of the Winthrop & Rockland Steamboat Co., has full charge of the repair and supply department of the Rising garage and the letting of cars. He has been an automobile owner, himself, for some years and is thoroughly conversant with the business. The Rising retain the agency of the Cadillac cars, and under the new management will find more time in which to push their sale.

The new firm is a strong combination.
Freeman Stanley, building contractor,
is having a busy season. At the request of Mr. Littlefield on Middle street he has installed two new bathrooms with tiled floors, and hardwood floors have been laid elsewhere in the house. The premises have been greatly beautified by the construction of walls of gray limestone. The stable has been enlarged to serve garage purposes. Mr. Stanley is remodeling the house on Camden street, lately purchased by George T. Wade and is adding an ell to it. Mrs. Henry Beverage's place on Cedar street has had plumbing installed and other improvements have been made.

A horse from Charles S. Robbins' stable, hired temporarily by the Rockland Tallow Co., and driven by Orrin Marshall, clerk for the latter concern, was the victim Wednesday of a singular accident. When opposite the power station at Glencove Marshall heard a noise which sounded like an explosion. The horse reared, but the driver thought nothing of it until he saw blood spurting from a wound in the animal's right breast. Dr. J. W.
Wilde was summoned and found what appeared to be a bullet wound. He probed but was unable to find a bullet.
Many conjectures are being made to account for the affair. The horse was out for exercise Thursday, apparently suffering no ill effects.

Emery Smith, son of Mr. Smith of Brooklyn, a wealthy summer resort-er at Rockland Breakwater, was arranged before Judge Hurley Thursday charged with driving his automobile through Main street at a speed exceeding 15 miles an hour. He pleaded "guilty" and paid a fine of $40 and costs, amounting to $50.97. The maximum fine is $50. Many complaints have been made against the manner in which the Smith automobile has been driven lately through Main street, and the necessary evidence was obtained Wednesday night. Young Smith was arrested by Patrolman Heckbert upon complaint of Marshall Hix. It is hoped this costly example will have a good effect upon speeders, not all of whom are summer resorters by any manner
of means.

After 6 o'clock p. m., parties wishing to telephone the Mather greenhouses will call 425-42, Crescent Beach, where all orders will receive prompt attention. 561f

Hot? Who said so? Surely not anyone who has been to Crescent Beach this week. We have 999 sworn oaths that it is averaged 20 degrees cooler at the Beach than in Rockland and the rest of the County for the past week. If you don't believe it, come down and prove it to yourself. Cars leave Park street every half hour. Something doing there every moment.

ern Union.

The Naval Reserves left on the 10.10
train this Friday morning for their annual cruise.

The Congregational Society will hold its annual midsummer fair Aug.
9. Details will appear in a later issue.

Miss E. Hazel Perkins, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. A. C. Jones, for the past ten days, returned to her home Wednesday.

The Half Hour Club will have its annual picnic at Oakland Thursday, July 20. Members will take the 10.40 car, carrying dishes and silver.

S. H. Hall, who was accidentally shot the fourth of July, is able to be about his place of business, although not actively working. His recovery seems assured.

C. C. Bulmer, painter employed by E. H. Orie, was overcome by heat on McLoom wharf yesterday and was taken to Knox hospital. He had recovered sufficiently this morning to be removed to his boarding house.

Sam E. Conner of the Lewiston Journal was in the city yesterday working back toward Lewiston after a trip down the coast. He found Rockland rather dry newspaper territory at the present time, but it's safe to say that this versatile pen-pusher did not go home
"skunked."

The Rockland postoffice was opened to business on Thursday, July 13, as a Post Savings Bank and is now ready to receive deposits of funds from its patrons, upon which interest at the rate of two percent per annum will be paid. The banking business will be transacted in the money order room, which will be open from 8 a. m. to 6
p. m.

The crowd at Crescent Beach Thursday night made it look as though the season is at its height, whereas the good times have only fairly commenced. An enlarged building will be necessary to accommodate the dancers if the popularity of the Pavilion increases proportionately. Six bath houses are being constructed,
the ball ground is assuming form, and there are many other things doing
which are going to make Crescent Beach "all the rage."

There is an exhibition in the show-window of G. W. Palmer & Son's Jewelry store a collection of decorated china which will delight those persons who enjoy the beautiful. The decoration is the work of Mrs. William T. Haines of Waterville, and is sent to Mr. Palmer for exhibit and sale. The collection embraces some 30 varieties with a total of about 100 pieces. There are cups and saucers, mayonnaise dishes,
sugar and creamers, tea tins, bonbon dishes, bouillon cups, footed nut dishes, coffee and cocoa sets, etc., etc.
The forms are elegant and the decoration marked by great delicacy of taste and execution. Both Mrs. Haines and her daughter exhibit notable talent and these examples of their handicraft will be viewed with great interest by their Rockland friends. Miss Haines is a pupil of Sidney J. Calhoun of Boston and Miss Arie M. Kelly of Hartford.

MATCH IGNITED VAPORS
Exciting Experience of Four Rockland
Young Men Who Had Embarked on a Fishing Trip.

Walter Larrabee, Daniel Churchill,
Neil Packard and Everett Davis figured in an exciting episode half way across to the White Islands early Wednesday morning, and the two days'
fishing trip which they had planned terminated then and there.

Larrabee and Churchill occupied a power boat and the other two young men were in a 30-foot sloop which was in tow.

The engines of the power boat suddenly stopped, and the occupants thought the gasoline supply had given out. Larrabee turned water into the gasoline tank and primed the engine, getting only one or two "kicks". It was soon ascertained that the trouble was with the needle valve. While Larrabee was working upon it Churchill lighted a match in order that he might see better. The gaseous atmosphere took fire, burning Churchill
about the face.

The footgear of both young men was afire when they abandoned the burning craft. They swam to the sloop and were pulled in by the companions. The power boat, which was owned by Edw. Studley, burned to the water's edge.

The quartet of would be fishermen came back into port, grateful that the affair had not developed into a tragedy.

THE SYLVESTER MYSTERY

Prominent Rockland Young Man Missing Since Wednesday Morning—Believed to Have Been Affected by Heat.

Charles A. Sylvester, clerk for Larrabee Bros., a prominent Odd Fellow and Granger, has been missing since early Wednesday morning, and the police of several states have been asked to help ascertain his whereabouts.

He arose at 4 o'clock that morning,
told his wife that his head felt badly,
and remarked that he would take a short bicycle ride with the hope that it would put him in better condition for his day's work. Later he was seen riding over Union street, and at 9 he purchased a collar in a Thomaston store, the clerk of which knows him personally. From that moment he appears to have dropped out of existence, and the utter absence of clues is quite remarkable in view of the fact that he should be so easy to identify.

When he left home he had on a suit of blue clothes which he always wore at the store and a Panama hat. He carried a small hand satchel and was fairly well supplied with funds.

The theory most generally accepted is that the young man had been affected by the extreme heat of the past two weeks and had no clear idea of what he was doing.

He has been noble grand of Knox Lodge, I. O. O. F., has served two terms
as master of Penobscot View Grange,
has been lecturer of Pomona Grange,
prominent in the work of the Universalist church, and active in amateur theatricals.

Mr. Sylvester is 28 and a son of Mrs.
Lizzie F. Sylvester. He married Miss Lillian Maguire, formerly stenographer for R. I. Thompson, and they have a child about one year of age.

The family and friends have unshaking confidence in the young man's integrity, their chief concern being as to his physical and mental welfare.

HOT WEATHER ADVICE

Drink Plenty of Cool Water, Eat Sparingly, Bathe Twice a Day—and Then Some.

Although there is not much likelihood that we shall experience any more such hot weather as that of the last two weeks, it is well to become familiarized with Dr. Lederle's advice for hot weather, which he has summarized as follows:

Clothing and Exercise
Dress lightly and cool as possible.
Avoid physical exercise as far as possible.

Keep out of the sun.
Food and Drink
Drink cool water in plenty.
Avoid ice water, sweet drinks and alcoholic beverages and tea and coffee
in excess.

Eat sparingly—of fish, fruits and vegetables, cereals, clean milk and buttermilk.

Avoid rich foods, fats, sweets. Meat,
not more than once a day.

Bathing and Medicine
Wash and bathe in cool water at least twice a day—take salt water baths (ocean) if possible.

Take no medicine except on the advice of a physician.

In case of prostration, send at once
for a physician.

Hearing Restored After Fifteen Years

An Extremely Delicate Operation Performed on Portland Man by Dr. Lansing

Removal of Large Tumors, One from Each Ear, Restores Health and Hearing.

M. F. Sullivan, a shoemaker by trade and well known in Portland, writes Dr. Lansing the following letter for publication:

"For fifteen years I have been a great sufferer, both ill and deaf, and continually growing worse. After a searching examination Dr. Lansing told me that I was afflicted with catarrh of the stomach, complicated with kidney trouble. He described my symptoms exactly. My stomach being so bad at times nothing could be retained. The doctor also remarked my great deafness, and thanks be to God, and

SAVED BY SKILL
A Biddeford Fireman Had Given up Hope, Believed That Death Would Soon Release Him From the Agony He Suffered

Among the hundreds who have sought advice and treatment of Dr. E. Holden Lansing since the great specialist became located in this city is Leon Gouchie, a fireman in the employ of the Saco River Lumber Co. Mr. Gouchie was obliged to give up his position on account of an aggravated stomach trouble which had turned his life into a living torture. He was unable to sleep and could retain nothing on his stomach, and thought he surely had got to die. Numerous physicians had given him no relief or encouragement, and he had fruitlessly dosed with patent medicines. That was January 6th, this year, and today he is as well as ever, eats and digests anything he wishes, sleeps soundly, is fast regaining his lost flesh, and has resumed his position with the lumber company. He firmly believes Dr. Lansing saved his life.

ANOTHER GRATEFUL PATIENT

Who Spent Hundreds of Dollars Without Relief Until She Consulted Dr. E. Holden Lansing.

Mrs. C. A. Greenwood, residing in Biddeford, has been suffering for over two years with chronic kidney and vesical trouble, but found relief, at last, through Dr. Lansing's treatment. At times her pains had been excruciating and she could find no relief, for which she spent several hundred dollars in vain effort.

Dr. Lansing very kindly told her that he would take her case, but that it would probably take six months to effect a cure. On Saturday last she visited his office and said she felt like a new woman so great was her relief, and that in her opinion she would be permanently cured in two months instead of six.

Here is a case that numerous physicians have failed to benefit, but in which Dr. Lansing has effected a radical relief in two weeks.

A Happy Man---After Twelve Years of Torture Cured by Dr. E. Holden Lansing

A happy man is P. W. Caswell, of 159 Middle street, Lewiston, but only one of a multitude of rejoicing men and women all over this country, who pay tribute to the triumphs of Dr. E. Holden Lansing.

With a face flushed with enthusiasm at finding himself rid forever of that clinging dread of disease, burning eczema, which had tortured him for many years, he related his story to the writer:

"For twelve long years," said Mr. Caswell, "I had been suffering frightfully from eczema, which extended on my right leg from the ankle to the knee in a mass of scales and burning sores. One doctor after another, and plant medicines by the gallon, until I had wasted hundreds of dollars without a iota of relief. To shorten my story, I owe my present happiness to Dr. E. Holden Lansing, who has encompassed my complete recovery, and freed me from that itching, burning pest which had well-nigh driven me to the borders of madness.

Twelve years ago I was first afflicted with eczema. I tried the best physicians in the city and elsewhere, but their forms of treatment seemed of no avail. I gradually became worse until my limb was a source of terrible pains, and at times almost unbearable, and finally my case was decided as hopeless. Through friendly advice, for which I shall be ever grateful, I called on Dr. Lansing on the 25th of January of last year, and my treatment and cure was pronounced. Today I do not bear any trace of that horrible disease, and all afflicted and suffering people.

JAMES M. MITCHELL

James M. Mitchell died at his home, 37 Main street, last Monday, aged 65. He was a native of Aberdeenshire, Scotland, and learned the trade of granite cutter in that great granite district. He came to this country about 1869, and worked at his trade in Albany, N. Y. He went back to Scotland, but came to America again in 1872 and went to work at Dix Island making his home in Rockland, where he had resided ever since. He was a man of fine intelligence, master of his trade, honest and upright in every relation of life, and of pleasant and agreeable manners. His death was caused by Bright's disease, from which he suffered a long time, complicated by disease of the respiratory organs, the result of inhaling granite dust. His wife died a few months ago. He is survived by three sons and a daughter—James of New York, Joseph of Detroit, John Newton Porter of New York, and Gladys of Rockland; also by two stepsons, Alfred and Harry St. Clair of Bath. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Russell Woodman of St. Peter's Episcopal church, of which deceased was a member, officiating.

Miss Blanche Andrews of Tenants Harbor is visiting her cousin, Gurtha Barter of this city.

Napoleons continue to be patronized in spite of the influx of more novel shapes; no wonder, as it is so becoming to many faces. Nothing prettier to accompany a pongee costume than a sand-colored hat of this shape trimmed only with a quantity of loops of black moire ribbon between the two up-standing sides of the brim. Some of those in black tulle are trimmed with two white amazons, one sweeping across from left to right ear, the other set up behind with its tip curving over. Others have a hedge of aigrette behind the front flap, sloping somewhat backwards.—The Millinery Trade Review.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Freeman N. Hamilton of Isle au Haut were recent guests of Mrs. Hamilton's sister, Mrs. W. E. Prescott, Willow street.

Mrs. James J. McGuire of New York and Miss Ida May Simpson of Stonington have returned home after a few days' visit with Mrs. McGuire's aunt, Mrs. Charles Rich, Rankin street.

The gathering was in honor of Miss Helena Miles and Miss Nellie McNeil, of Bangor, nieces of Mr. and Mrs. Miles.

The guests were Dorothy Blethen, Doris Sunkley, Ruth French, Christy's parents, Adelaide Cross, Charlotte Cross, Ruth Peterson, Edith Peterson, Lee Freeman, Marion Baker, Mabel Dorrigan, Catherine McIntire, and the Misses Perry, Rockland; Nellie McNeil and Helena Miles, Bangor; Julia Smith and Celia Daley, Boston; Frances Cole, Natick.

A deep sea fishing trip was indulged in during the day, and "Charlie" gave ample evidence that he has not forgotten the lessons learned when he resided on the shores of the briny deep instead of along the murky waters of the Kennebec.

SULLIVAN GOT IT

New Orleans Man Won Exciting Battle for Grand Exalted Ruler of Elks.

Terminating one of the closest campaigns in the history of the Order of the Grand Lodge of Elks Tuesday elected John Patrick Sullivan of New Orleans grand exalted ruler. The fight made by Charles Rasbury of Dallas, Texas, for the office made the result in doubt until late in the afternoon. Sullivan received 814 votes. Tullis Wright, a past exalted ruler of Philadelphia Lodge, who attempted to win the office of esteemed loyal knight, got but 498 votes while Frank A. King of Providence, who was pushed into the fight when Wright's candidacy became known, polled 899.

Other officers elected include: Grand esteemed leading knight, L. M. Level of Florida; grand esteemed lecturing knight, Frank B. Kingsley of Kansas; grand secretary, Fred C. Robinson of Dubuque, and grand treasurer, Edmond Leach of New York.

The next meeting of the Grand Lodge will be held in Portland, Ore. A per capita tax of 50 cents will be levied on every member of the Order of Elks to raise the $250,000 needed for the new National Elks Home at Bedford City, Va., according to action taken by the grand lodge. Wednesday a commission consisting of Grand Exalted Ruler J. P. Sullivan, Past Grand Exalted Ruler August Hermann, the board of trustees and three additional members will have charge of the project. The Newport, R. I. lodge, No. 104, captured the $500 prize at the competitive drill.

The Public Bath Houses at Crescent Beach will be completed by next Sunday. Bathing Suite A can be hired. Last Sunday 50 people took a plunge. The water is warm. The management look for at least 150 people in the water next Sunday. If you can't swim, go out on the long pier and watch the swimmers.

X SPORTS

The baseball season at Rockland Breakwater opened rather inauspiciously for the Samoset team Tuesday, when that aggregation was trimmed by a Rockland team 15 to 2. The hotel players were weak in the box, both Joburn and Nutt getting some very hard bumps. The real star of the Samoset this season is third baseman Weeks, who not only hit the ball for a very pretty triple, but handled ground balls like a leaguer. Mealey of Rockland is playing with the Ricker disciples this season, and no other millionaire seems to have much on him. About the only trouble is that he doesn't have to be introduced to the fact. Flint made a star catch in left field, and followed it with a magnificent throw to first base for about the best double that has been seen in these parts the present season. The game was witnessed by a large number of Samoset guests who waxed as enthusiastic as the hot weather and the Samoset's showing would permit. Another game between those two teams will be played on the Samoset grounds Saturday afternoon.

Some Class to Weeks

At the Samoset Thursday the Cad-dies defeated the Guests 4 to 2. "Jeff" Mealey pitching for the former. It is rumored that a Red Sox scout was watching Mealey's performance from a place of concealment in the grove.

WARREN BOY SCOUTS

Full Particulars, Now For the First Time
Printed, of Their Recent Memorable
Hike to Augusta.

[So many requests have come to Scout Commissioner Heald, at Waterville, regarding the different hikes that the Boy Scouts have been making, that he has decided to give out a report of one of the trips which may indicate to other patrols somewhat the needs of such an undertaking.] Here then follows the detailed story of a trip made by the Warren Boy Scouts, brief mention of which has already appeared in The Courier-Gazette.

Monday, June 12, was an unpleasant day, but a "Beaver" saluted his Scout master during the forenoon with, "We are going, aren't we?" And go, we did. The Beavers to the number of eight, with their Scout master, Rev. Henry W. Webb, assembled on the grounds of the Baptist parsonage at one o'clock Monday afternoon. There Rev. H. S. Kilborn, Scout master of the Cuckoos, had gathered six of his Scouts and had made ready his automobile with his camp outfit and other necessities of the proposed journey. Having faced the camera several times, "aunts" were formed, the auto ran on before, and the remainder took up the line of march.

Heavy roads are bad enough for pedestrians, but they are real barriers to automobiles. With the village still in sight the column came up with the advanced guard, waiting beside the way—the auto was compelled to turn homeward, but not the Scouts. Very quickly had the individual belongings been transferred to the shoulders of those who would see Augusta. In a drizzle of rain the lines moved forward and a rest now and then put ten miles between camping ground and home. One cheering incident by the way was a halt at a farm house where milk and doughnuts were passed in plenty.

At North Waldoboro permission was obtained to camp in a cooper-shop. Here an open fire was made and the wet boots and clothing were warmed and dried. The wooden side of an excelsior mattress is none too soft; yet the night was spent on the soft side of lime cask staves and bundles of hoops with rubber blankets spread on them. Although night watches were maintained, sleep was not abundant and early breakfast was wrenched from tin cans and the march resumed about six a. m. As there was a clearing off shower in the night, the roads were not improved over the condition of the night before. In spite of all hindrances the boys moved up into the hill country of Jefferson and drank in the beauty of the field and lake. At East Jefferson mail was sent home as at North Waldoboro.

Having beautiful Damariscotta Lake on the left hand, the march was resumed past a century-old church on the right. The way led toward Cooper's Mills. Here word was received that the Governor of the State would meet this detachment of the B. S. A. on Thursday afternoon. Plans and courses were shaped accordingly. After a little rest the patrols went on toward South Windsor, crossing the Wiscasset & Farmington Railroad and the Sheepscot river. Permission to rest in a barn-loft was obtained at South Windsor and the good lady of the house brewed also most excellent coffee to the great delight of the weary travelers.

The next stage was expected to end at the National Soldiers' Home, a few miles out of Augusta and connected with the capital city by trolley. Hard walking was encountered but the lines marched onto the grounds through the South Gates between four and five Tuesday afternoon, having covered about twenty miles for the day. The boys were warmly greeted by the veterans who met them along the way. Marching in good order, the column went directly to headquarters where a halt was made.

Col. John T. Richards, Governor of the National Soldiers' Home, gave a hearty welcome and assigned sleeping quarters and made other provision for the night. Sight-seeing and visiting with the "Boys of '61" made the evening pass very quickly. Wire springs were very agreeably substituted for tin staves. After a good rest the boys awakened to find that it was not raining.

The trolley was made use of to enter the capital. The G. A. R. and allied orders were well represented at the annual encampment. Some familiar faces were found. The Cuckoos found that Scout master Kilborn had come by train and had been offered quarters for all the Scouts. Owing to the wet condition of the grounds, it was decided to use the church vestry which had been tendered instead of camping near the State House. Through the kindness of Adj. Gen. E. C. Dill, Scout master Webb was able to provide cots, mattresses and pillows for all.

Another addition to the company was Albert Whitmore who came from Warren by train to tramp back and take pictures. He obtained a number of very good views. Visiting public buildings, hunting up acquaintances, meeting other Scouts, made the time pass all too soon. Thursday afternoon found all assembled at the Capitol. Some points of interest were viewed and the legislative halls were entered. We wonder if the lad who took a seat in the House will be elected later.

At two o'clock the company presented itself at the executive chambers. Private Secretary Murphy escorted all into the council chamber, there to await the Governor's arrival. Each one was most graciously received by the affable Governor of our commonwealth, after which his excellency made a strong, impressive speech, commending the movement and encouraging those present to go on to fulfill its promise.

A climb to the dome of the Capitol gave a fine view of the country round about and made our "farthest point from home." Governor Richards having kindly offered to shelter the party, the journey homeward was begun by taking cars for the National Soldiers' Home. Here a hearty reception awaited those who had been there two nights previously. Two Scouts with Scout master Kilborn returned to Warren by train. The twelve who remained with the expedition were permitted to take part in the salute to the flag which was lowered at 5 p. m. The boys were drawn up in a good line and gave the Scout salute to the flag.

A ball game followed but we are not counting upon that for glory. A good rest prepared all for the march of Friday through North Whitefield by Pleasant Pond. It was a fairly good day until North Whitefield was reached. There the rain fell and the swim in Pleasant Pond was omitted. The column moved on above Dyer Long Pond to the beautiful grounds of Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Jackson. Here camping space was gladly given as well as a generous supply of food. A pleasant evening was spent at East Jefferson. A camp fire was built, watches set and a sleep in the open begun. Some of the party had had the joy of a dip in Damariscotta Lake.

An early start was made on Saturday morning. The boys marched into Warren village strong and in good order. They arrived at the Congregational parsonage at 10.30 a. m. There it was learned that the young girls with their mothers' help had prepared a bountiful repast in the chapel. This repast disappeared about noon and the Scouts one by one, sought a reclining place and soon after fell asleep.

This ended the tramp to Augusta and return. Some 70 miles were covered and that over heavy, wet roads. All had a good time and felt well repaid for the efforts made. The Scouts met with uniform kindness all along the way even when taken for a band of roving Indians.

CAMPING AT WASHINGTON

A company of 50 boys have arrived from Massachusetts at Medomak Camp in Washington. This camp was organized in 1903 by F. E. Poland, a Maine man, of the C. A. Daniels School in Malden, Mass., who owns a large farm in Washington and his camp started from the pleasure and profit received by a few boys he entertained at his summer home a number of years ago. The colony has increased every season. The boys have plenty of time for recreation and sport and at the same time are developing in health, happiness, morals and education. This year Mr. Poland has a corps of nine councillors, all instructors in Massachusetts schools.

There's no more popular place in Knox county on a hot summer night, especially if it's a moonlight night, than the Crescent Beach Pier, a view of which is shown above. History telleth not how many summer engagements have been consummated there, or of the soft nothings which lovers have exchanged under the guise of conversation. From the end of the pier stretches "old ocean's gray and melancholy waste," and could the human eye see romance in anything the Crescent Beach Pier is simply a delightful retreat from the intense heat of the city—a place where an ordinary cigar tastes like a real Havana and where the man with numerous creditors feels like a stockbroker who has played the market right. Some day this ancient wooden structure will be replaced by a steel pier, and on the end of it will be a casino but there will not be the same flavor of romance that you get now.

Leather Trust Causes All Your Shoe Troubles

Profits—profits—profits are the one aim of the Leather Trust. It controls the tanneries. It works hand in glove with the Hide Trust. It runs up the price of leather—it cheapens the quality. You see now why the average shoe costs you so much—and why its quality is so bad.

Endicott, Johnson & Co. are the only shoe manufacturers of this country who are independent of the Leather Trust, the Hide Trust and all Middlemen.

They buy their hides in the open markets of the world. They own their tanneries—they tan every pound of leather they put into their shoes. They sell direct from the factory to your home shoe dealer.

Endicott-Johnson shoes are firm and solid—but pliable and comfortable to the feet. They have style—and they hold their style, because the good leather has back-bone to withstand wear and weather.

They come to you 50 cents to $1.00 cheaper than any other shoes of the same general appearance—they pay no profits to Trusts or Middlemen. Ask your local Endicott-Johnson dealer for ENDWELL (Goodyear Welt) shoes—dress and business shoes, selling at $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00.

ENDWELL shoes give you your choice of two hundred styles in Shoes and Oxfords, lace and button—all the modish lasts—every width and shape of toe—all colors of leather.

Look for this name stamped in every shoe—
